

Green Class

Green Class have really been getting about this term. We visited France for the day (in our imaginations) for the French themed day and have travelled back as far as the Stone Age in history.

The Stone Age has been part of our learning across the curriculum. In literacy the children have loved our story, Cave Baby. They gathered materials just like their stone age counterparts to make paint for our very own cave paintings in art.

As well as stones we have looked at rocks and how they are made in our science and geography. Sounds exciting when you realise that you can make your own rocks from sweets to help understand the process!

We have learnt about Judaism, Hinduism, fundraised for Children in Need and were lucky enough to have a celebrity at the RDA Christmas Party to present the children with their achievement certificates; Clare Balding OBE!

The highlight of the term was definitely our trip to Butser Ancient Farm. The children loved experiencing real Stone and Bronze age houses. They carved chalk, met rare breeds, spun wool, made jewellery and sat on animal skins around the campfire to eat lunch in a traditional roundhouse. They really enjoyed handling all of the different artefacts and walking along the sweet track which is a replica of a stone age road which was very wobbly!
