

Green Class

This term has flown by and Green Class have loved learning about all manner of things. Our topic Let There Be Light really captured their imaginations and they have enjoyed finding out about shadows, silhouettes and the history of lighting.

We have looked at data handling in maths lessons and our spooky Halloween themed maths was a real scream! In literacy our key book was 'The Ice Palace' which had the pupils hooked from the beginning.

The pupils have experienced all things German for our language day with the café visit being very popular. Remembrance was very special this year with it being 100 years since the end of WWI and the pupils really engaged and produced some lovely art work.

There have been various days across school that have extended the pupils learning which have included Judaism, Hindusim and raising money for Children in Need.

The pupils have loved making lots of different silhouette art which has included portraits, Remembrance art, Autumn themed tealight holders and Karneval lanterns. They have even made their own scented candles.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year
