

Green Class

It has been a busy term in Green class with lots of different learning activities. Highlights have been our performance at Ferneham Hall, World Book Day and the Danceathon for Red Nose Day. The pupils should be very proud of their achievements.

The pupils have also been really engaged in their learning. Our topic this term has been Survival of the Fittest and they have been learning all about the skeleton and muscles. Not only have they been finding out about foods that keep them healthy but they have incorporated them into their art too!

They have enjoyed printing with fruits and vegetables and then developed their work to design their own tile to print with.

In maths they have been looking at measuring and they have used hands and feet to measure as well as more traditional objects.

Happy Easter from all of Green Class
